If you did a survey of the building trades, or off-road race drivers, or road maintenance yards you'd find that a lot of savvy professionals choose the rugged 4WD Jeep Pickup. There are solid reasons:

Jeep Pickup is the one that's exclusively four-wheel drive.

Jeep Pickup offers the highest payload capacity in its class.

Jeep Pickup has high ground clearance but low loading height.

And best of all, Jeep Pickup offers light duty J-10 models and heavier duty J-20 with up to 8400 lbs. GVW, for whatever the task.

A lot of great adjectives accurately describe Jeep Pickup "tough," "rugged," "dependable," "workhorse." Another good one is "versatile" because Jeep Pickup offers so many ways to work and play: It comes in 119" or 131" wheelbase; with 7' or 8' cargo box; and it's in sleek Townside or smart Sportside styling. The four-wheel drive system is famous Jeep Part-Time with standard free-wheeling front hubs. Standard J-10 powerteam includes a 258 CID Six equipped with electronic fuel and spark controls wedged to a fully-synchronized 4-speed manual transmission (5-speed or auto. avail.) Power steering and brakes are standard. So are hefty, load-cradling leaf springs, electronic ignition, fuel tank and transfer case skid plates, front stabilizer bar and steering damper.
