Bobcat 3-door and the Bobcat 3-door with optional Glass Third Door

Mercury Bobcat: a small car from the Lincoln-Mercury fine car division.

You get a lot to love in little Mercury Bobcat including the kind of ride and comfort you expect from Lincoln-Mercury.

For such a little package it goes a long way to put fun back into driving. To give you an improved ride and better handling, Bobcat for '77 went weight-watching. And came up pounds trimmer with new anodized aluminum bumpers front and rear. A new DuraSpark Ignition system with increased voltage. Tightened up its suspension system to further sweeten its smooth ride. Tossed in some new super options like a flip-up/removable moonroof (you'll find a listing on the back page). And new for '77 is the Bobcat's optional glass third door that's something else. We think you'll love Bobcat's really roomy interior, too. Bobcat hasn't forgotten that people have heads, hips and shoulders. Note the spacious, cheery look, of the deluxe interior option shown top right in optional bright red Alpine cloth and vinyl with low-back bucket seats. Also available in medium blue, light green or chamois. Below it are shown standard high-back bucket seats in medium blue Kirsten cloth and vinyl and also available in all-vinyl, in black, bright red, light green or chamois.

Mercury Bobcat standard features include: 2.3 liter OHC 4-cylinder engine • Four-speed manual transmission • A78x13 BSW tires • DuraSpark Ignition • Manual front disc brakes • Rack-and-pinion steering • Hood sound blanket • Bucket seats • Cigar lighter • Ash trays, front and rear • Cut-pile carpeting • Aluminum bumpers • Woodgrain instrument panel applique, parking brake grip, and shift knob • Deluxe wheel covers • Wide wheelip and rocker panel moldings • Full complement of Ford Motor Company Lifeguard Design safety features • Other equipment shown is optional.

Mini-Console

No wonder everybody loves that Bobcat... it's such a good sport!

Is our Bobcat a "wagon" or a "sedan?" The answer is a toss-up as a simple flip of its pneumatically assisted liftgate will demonstrate. Fold down the rear seat and—presto!—a full five feet of cargo loadspace. And, for sporty options, consider the two on the opposite page. Nearest car shows the "S" option group. It gives you a gold-stripe treatment from hood to back panel, touches of blackout where it's most stylish, styled steel wheels with gold accents, dual racing mirrors, sports-type suspension with stabilizer bar. And, one of its sportier touches, the new glass third door. Its sporty mate features the Bobcat Sports Accent Group. This option lists styled steel wheels with trim rings, special paint and tape treatment, leather-wrapped sports steering wheel, deluxe bucket seats, and belts, even a sound package including deluxe carpeting in the passenger area and a carpeted load floor. Either of these two options can be further added to with the new Bobcat flip-up/removable moonroof option. For a complete list of options, see the back cover. Yessiree, Bobcat is a strong, sturdy small car that surrounds you with traditional Lincoln-Mercury values and does it in fine style! Prime examples of Bobcat style are shown in the two illustrations at the top of the page. Left is shown the Bobcat instrumentation positioned for easy viewing. Next to it is shown the mini-console, a neat way to add extra storage to your Bobcattin' jaunts. The lower illustration shows the optional decor interior in all-vinyl chamois and available in black, bright red, medium blue, or light green.

Comet 2-door and Comet 4-door with Custom Option

Mercury Comet: practical and stylish but one tough little car.

Mercury Comet has a reputation to live up to and lives up to it beautifully. It enjoys a tradition for toughness that stretches back untold millions of miles. And its price is right in there with the imports. It's classified as a compact, but it seems more like a big car on the inside, whether you choose the 2-door or the 4-door. When you elect the Custom Option you get a Comet with a little Cougar in it. The big cat's brand of luxury, vinyl roof, white sidewall tires with custom wheel covers, bodyside paint stripes and full length molding with color-keyed vinyl inserts, deluxe cut-pile carpeting and reclining front bucket seats, tinted glass and leather-wrapped sports steering wheel, among other things.

Illustrated above right is the Custom Interior option with bucket seats in tan Corinthian vinyl, also available in medium blue; Alpine cloth and vinyl is available in blue, tan or light green. The interior below is the standard bench seat scheme shown in bright red vinyl, also available in black, medium blue, tan or light green.

Standard features on Mercury Comet: 200-1V "Six" engine (250-1V "Six" with automatic transmission required in California) • 3-speed manual transmission • C78x14 BSW tires • Manual front disc brakes • Dual hydraulic brakes with warning light • Ash tray front (lighted) and rear • European-type armrests and door handles • Parking brake warning light • Glove box • Door-activated dome light • Other equipment shown is optional.
