Part of a great tradition.

Alfa GT Cloverleaf. Excitement comes as standard

The making of a thoroughbred

Although the Cloverleaf is the symbol of the Alfa Romeo works teams, it has also appeared on exceptional Alfa Romeo road cars down the years. Such a car is the Alfa GT Cloverleaf.

The work of Italian coachbuilders Bertone, the sensuous lines of the Alfa GT clothe a deceptively spacious 2+2 cabin. Multilink rear suspension and double-wishbone front suspension gives the Alfa GT the handling and roadholding that every enthusiast would expect of an Alfa Romeo; responsive, confidence-inspiring and supple. In the Alfa GT Cloverleaf version, drivers also enjoy the bonus of 18" double spoke alloy wheels with 225/40 R18 tyres.

The Alfa GT Cloverleaf is offered with four engine variants. The 1.8TS develops 140bhp, accelerates from 0–62mph in 10.6 seconds and returns 35mpg (combined cycle). The other petrol model, the 2.0 JTS, features direct injection for a highly fuel-efficient 165bhp. It hits the 62mph mark in 8.7 seconds. For those preferring the high torque and fuel efficiency of diesel power, Alfa Romeo offers two versions of its 1.9JTD_M 16v engine, with a choice of 150bhp or the range-topping 170bhp Q2.

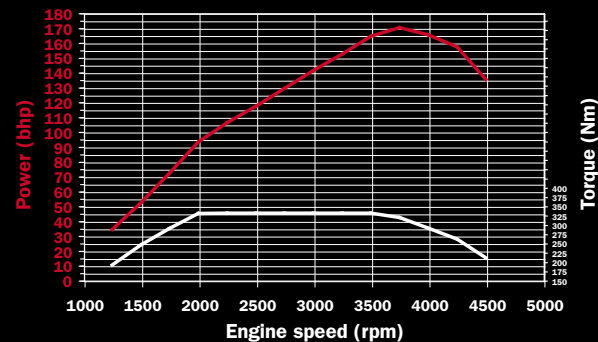

Power with control

With its broad spread of torque and instant response to the throttle, the range-topping Alfa GT Cloverleaf 1.9JTDm 16v Q2 is a worthy inheritor of the four-leafed clover. The 170bhp diesel engine delivers high performance, lower CO₂ emissions and excellent fuel economy; its power is harnessed by the Alfa-developed Q2 limited slip differential, which offers outstanding cornering ability without the killjoy intervention of electronic traction control. This remarkable high-performance diesel accelerates from 0–62mph in 8.2 seconds, reaching a top speed of 135mph. The Sport button on the central console varies the mapping of the accelerator pedal, giving you the option of “normal” mapping or a sports configuration which enhances the throttle response for a more sporting drive. Nuvolari himself would have approved...and you certainly will.

Sport mode

Even as standard, the Alfa GT has the power to turn heads.

In the Cloverleaf version, it positively commands attention. Every aspect of its specification has been designed to offer the ultimate in pleasure of ownership, from the black leather sports seats to the unique double five-spoke alloy wheels.

Take in its sleek lines and you'll notice the lower stance and the 18" alloy wheels on low-profile 225/40 R18 tyres, with red-painted brake calipers visible through the spokes. The heated, electrically-adjustable wing mirrors and the distinctive Alfa Romeo grille are finished in satin-effect brightwork. The 1.8TS, 2.0JTS and 1.9JTD_M 16v models feature a Cloverleaf badge on the boot lid, while the 170bhp 1.9JTD_M 16v Q2 is distinguished by Cloverleaf badges on the front wings. Although the badges are subtle, true enthusiasts will instantly recognise the Alfa GT Cloverleaf as a rare and highly desirable sports car in the Alfa tradition.

The Alfa GT Cloverleaf is designed for comfortable, fast and pleasurable journeys.

Settle into the comfortable, supportive driving seat and you'll spot detail touches like the stainless steel kick plates, the drilled aluminium accelerator, brake and clutch pedals and the sports instrumentation with its distinctive red background.

The supportive sports seats are upholstered in black leather and – another thoughtful touch – the passenger seat, like the driver seat, is height adjustable.

The steering wheel is trimmed in leather and features remote audio control of the powerful Bose® sound system with its separate amplifier and subwoofer. Dual-zone automatic climate control ensures that both driver and passenger can achieve their ideal ambient temperature. Such details make a true granturismo.

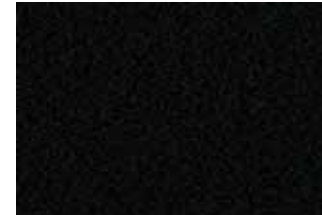

Limited numbers: generous specification

The Alfa GT Cloverleaf is a limited edition, and it's destined to become as much of a classic as the other Cloverleaf models in Alfa Romeo history. It's offered in three exterior finishes: Carbonio Black, Alfa Red and a new Atlantico Blue metallic paint. While the standard Alfa GT is comprehensively equipped, the Cloverleaf limited edition adds valuable extras like double-spoke 18" alloy wheels and black leather upholstery at a price that represent outstanding value for money.

Alfa Romeo GT Cloverleaf series

A symbol of sporting success since 1923

Shortly before the 1923 Targa Florio, Alfa Romeo driver Udo Sivocchi found a four-leafed clover by the roadside. Hoping for good luck, he persuaded his team to paint a cloverleaf symbol on his Alfa Romeo RL... and he won the race, scoring Alfa Romeo's first major international victory. From that day on, the Cloverleaf has appeared on Alfa Romeo works racing cars in Grands Prix, road races and endurance races around the world.

1931 Gran Premio Tipo B P3

1925 P2 World Champion

1950 Alfetta

1951 Fangio 159 Spanish GP

Throughout the 1920s and 1930s, Alfa Romeo's racing record was dominant, in both road races and Grands Prix, with legendary drivers like Nuvolari at the wheel. Post-war, the first-ever Grand Prix World Champion driver was Giuseppe Farina, who became World Champion in 1950 driving an Alfa 158.

The next year it was the turn of Juan Manuel Fangio, his teammate. Away from the grand prix scene, the Cloverleaf has also graced some of the finest sports cars Alfa Romeo has ever made, including the magnificent Alfa 8C Competizione, a 4.7-litre supercar that is the flagship of the current range.

In motor racing, the giant-killing Alfa Giulia GTA, multiple European Touring Car Championship winner in the 1960s; the Alfa 33 TT 12, dominant in the Sports Prototype World Championship in the 1970s; and the European championship-winning Alfa 155 and 156 saloons have all carried the Cloverleaf to the chequered flag.

In total, Alfa Romeo has won 11 Mille Miglia races, ten Targa Florio, four Le Mans 24 Hours, two Grand Prix world championships and three sports car world championships, as well as numerous national and European touring car championships (ETCC).

That's a lot of lucky four-leafed clovers.
