The radical new Charger SRT8 more than backs up its menacing good looks with a specially bored and engineered 425-horsepower 6.1-litre SRT HEMI® V8. Performance-tuned braking and suspension systems team up to deliver the ultimate in high-performance handling – 0-60 mph (0-96 km/h) in the low five-second range and back down again to a full stop in just 110 ft (33.5 m).*

With a 420-horsepower HEMI® hooked to an advanced SRT electronic full-time four-wheel-drive system, the fastest, most powerful vehicle ever to wear the Jeep® badge lets you follow your sense of adventure about as quickly as you want. Grand Cherokee SRT8 also stands out from the crowd on-road with an aggressive stance, all-new front fascia and dual centre-mounted 2 ¾-inch exhaust tips.

As the high-flow aluminum air intake manifold of the 6.1-litre SRT HEMI® draws deep breaths, you notice that you're doing the same. Accelerate and your pulse quickens even more – but not nearly as fast as the fully independent front and rear suspension system reacts to the road. It's 21st century technology at work, but the thrill of pure driving passion is the same as it's always been.

If the 20-inch forged-aluminum wheels and dual 3.5-inch chrome exhaust tips don't give it away, the rumble of the 6.1-litre SRT HEMI® sure will. Magnum SRT8 is all about performance with a low-riding, high-performing suspension system. Packing up to 2027 litres (71.6 cubic feet) of cargo room under the hatch and 425 horsepower under the hood, you're in for a treat, no matter which end you open up.

From its big, red start button, the 7000-rpm tachometer and 330-km/h (220-mph) speedometer, Viper SRT10 brings race-proven super car prowess to the streets with venomous attitude. Specially designed Performance bucket seats with high-back support and side bolsters help keep you comfortably in position while power adjustable pedals, a leather-wrapped steering wheel and shift knob add a touch of luxury to every head-turning cruise.

ADRENALINE JUNKIES

It's time to reclaim your bragging rights. With 6.1 litres of fire-breathing HEMI® muscle at your disposal, that shouldn't be a problem. Roar at the pavement through the gleaming dual exhaust tips. And flaunt your performance with race-tuned red brake calipers peaking through lightweight aluminum wheels. That's exactly the feeling the SRT team had in mind. Having evolved from an underground group of renegade engineers who live and breathe motorsports, the SRT (Street and Racing Technology) Team has unlimited access to DaimlerChrysler's world-class development and testing resources. With this type of carte-blanc and a passion for all-out performance, they take our hottest vehicles and work their high-octane magic to create limited-edition SRT versions that make awe-inspiring extreme performance part of your daily commute.
