

76 Ford Mustang II

Our small, sporty personal car.

Our new 1976 Ford Mustang II.

Mustang II, which has always featured rich interiors, plus the ride and handling of a fine road car, now offers more: a rare opportunity to design your own brand of small, personal, sporty driving excitement. Besides Hardtop, 3-Door 2+2, Ghia and Mach 1 newness, there's spectacular Stallion styling in 2+2 and Hardtop versions, and an exciting new Cobra II. What's more, Mustang II's have Ford Lifeguard Design Safety Features.

Well-built. Mustang II is built durably. Galvanized parts, zinc metal door panels and a 6-step paint process help fight rust. Further quality touches: good body fits and handsomely tailored interiors.

Better mileage. For 1976, Ford has engineered its cars for better overall fuel economy than 1975 models. See your Ford Dealer for details on 1976 EPA mileage ratings.

Ford means value. Competitive pricing and popularity have helped keep trade-in value high. You also get impressive standards. See the list on the back cover.

Mustang II 3-Door 2+2. Say good-bye to boredom.

Our 4-passenger 2+2, with rear liftgate, is sure to open the door to a whole new exciting world. The rear seat folds down for 22.8 cubic feet to carry skis, scuba gear, whatever. Bucket seats come in easy-care vinyl. A 2.3 liter 2V overhead cam engine mates economically with a 4-speed manual. Front disc brakes, rack and pinion steering are standard.

But the real news is this. You have two great new ways to order the 2+2.

First consider the exciting new Stallion 2+2 below, in Bright Yellow (Code 6E), with dramatic Stallion touches like: Black grille • Black moldings and wiper arms • bright lower bodyside molding • Black-painted lower fenders, lower doors, lower front/rear bumpers, rocker panels • styled steel wheels. Four other color-and-Black combinations are available. See Stallion, page 3.

If you prefer bright, shiny chrome instead—plus a bold, bright grille . . . order the 2+2 as it comes.

And wait until you fun-drive 2+2. It moves like a dream and is easy to own. (Trim rings, dual remote mirrors, bumper guards, and V-8 are optional.)

Standard interior (left) seats four comfortably on low-back bucket seats tailored in Medium Blue (Code AB) vinyl. Bright Red, Tan or Black also available.

Mustang II 3-Door 2+2 (below), in Black (Code 1C), features bright moldings throughout, and a bold, bright grille.

Mustang II 3-Door 2+2 with Stallion Option Group.

On Cover: Inset—Ghia interior with Westminster cloth in Creme (Code DV). Black, Bright Red, Blue and Tan also available. Distinctive Mustang II Ghia in new Creme exterior (Code 6P), with half-vinyl roof in Creme. Options shown: console, dual remote mirrors, SelectShift, half-vinyl roof, wide-band WSW tires.

Notes: See Notable Standard Features on back cover. Color code reference also on back cover.

Mustang II Hardtop.

Sporty look. Great fun to drive. Modest price.

Mustang II Hardtops, lowest-priced models in the line, traditionally have been America's best-selling sports luxury cars. There are good reasons why they should set the pace again. You can order sporty styling in the bright chrome, bright grille version. Or, you can get your Hardtop decked out in dramatic Stallion Blackout treatment.

Interior beauty says comfort. With deep-cushioned low-back bucket seats nicely tailored in vinyl. Thick cut-pile carpeting. Woodtone appliques. Tachometer, odometer, fuel, ammeter and temperature gauges. True class. Luxurious. And standard.

The sporty floor shift, 4-speed manual transmission puts you smoothly in touch with a thrifty 2.3 liter 2V engine. For more exciting go, here and on the 2+2's, you can order the 2.8 liter 2V V-6. A spirited 302 CID 2V V-8 is also available with the responsive SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission. All engines come with solid state ignition. So tune-ups are simpler, with no point/condenser replacement. Fewer scheduled maintenance stops also help you save on service. The sporty, bright-chrome-styled Hardtop is illustrated below, in Red (Code 2R). But driving, of course, is better than seeing. And your Ford Dealer will be pleased to arrange it. See him soon, and learn how one success leads to another.

Luxury Interior Group (below left) lets you add a lot of rich looks and comfort. You get Black super-soft vinyl (Code BA) shown, or a choice of Westminster cloth and vinyl trim • large armrests • deluxe door and rear seat quarter trim • courtesy lights • color-keyed deluxe belts • plush 18-oz. cut-pile carpeting • super sound package. Bright Red, Medium Blue, Tan, Creme and White super-soft vinyl also available. Westminster cloth also comes beautifully in Medium Blue, Black, Tan or Bright Red. Options shown: console, SelectShift, dual remote mirrors.

Mustang II Hardtop

Mustang II Mach 1 plus exciting new Cobra II and Tu-Tone options

Be the talk of the town—or the local rally. Drive up in any of three new dazzlers: exhilarating Mach 1, Cobra II, or Stallion 2+2 with upbeat Tu-Tone.

Mach 1, shown below, gives you Red (2R) with Black lower bodysides, lower bumpers, deck lid, bright grille, bright window moldings, color-keyed dual remote mirrors. And racy touches like styled steel wheels plus RWL radials. A 2.8 liter 2V V-6 and 4-speed manual with floor shift are also standard. Options: 302 V-8, trim rings.

(A) Cobra II. Cobra strikes again! Built for today, it's smaller, more economical than its famous predecessor. But all Cobra underneath. Standards include: racing stripes • front/rear spoilers • non-functional air scoop • Cobra emblem • dual remote mirrors • 2.8 liter 2V V-6 • 4-speed manual with floor shift • front disc brakes • styled steel wheels/trim rings • RWL radials. Inside: Black, Blue or White vinyl trim, brushed metal accents, Cobra II nameplates. Polar White (9D) shown with Blue stripes. Surprisingly, Cobra II is a very affordable car.

(B) Sterling Plaid Cloth Trim makes the Luxury Interior Group sportier. Bright Red (Code ED) shown. Plaid also comes in Blue, Tan or Creme. SelectShift, AM Radio are optional.

(C) Tu-Tone Option on Stallion 2+2 in Silver Metallic and Black (Code 1G) includes Black hood and roof. Available, also, on 2+2 and Mach 1 models. Tu-Tone comes Black with Red, Polar White, Bright Yellow or Silver Blue Glow. Dual mirrors, pivoting rear quarter windows, bumper guards, RWL radials, forged aluminum wheels are optional.

Mustang II Mach 1.

Mustang II Ghia. Top of the line in Hardtop luxury.

If you savor luxury with sporty flair in the Mustang II dimension, the Ghia Hardtop measures up well. It comes with elegance you rarely expect in a small car, elegance that can evaporate boredom instantly. Ghia below, in Silver Blue Glow (Code 3M) with silver half vinyl roof, has optional Ghia Luxury Group. Many of its distinctions are impressive.

Ghia Luxury Group includes: half vinyl roof • full-length bodyside tape stripes • standup hood ornament. And inside: Media Velour cloth trim plus center console (see above, at right).

Ghia is luxurious as it comes, of course. Ghia standards include: full vinyl roof • hood ornament • opera windows • dual accent paint stripes • color-keyed vinyl insert bodyside moldings • deluxe wheel covers • BSW steel-belted radial ply tires that help save on gas. Inside, you get: choice of Westminster cloth and vinyl or all-vinyl trim • deluxe door trim • color-keyed deluxe belts • cut-pile carpeting • super soundproofing. Options shown here: Wide band WSW tires, cast spoke aluminum wheels, Deluxe Bumper Group, color-keyed dual remote control mirrors.

Top-of-the-line Ghia. Drive it soon at your Ford Dealer's.

Ghia Luxury Group Interior (right), ultimate salon elegance available, is impeccably trimmed in Cranberry Media Velour cloth (Code CH). Medium Blue or Tan are other Velour choices. Center console, included, offers handy storage. Deluxe door trim has carpeted lower portion. Exterior items detailed at left. Other options: AM/FM Stereo Radio, digital clock, SelectShift, SelectAire, leather-wrapped steering wheel.

Digital Clock (above), an optional, contemporary timepiece, features quartz crystal controlled accuracy.
